CE PROVIDERSHIP

Any individual, partnership, corporation, association, organized health care system, governmental agency, educational institution, or other organization which has the resources to provide continuing education (CE) in accordance with the guidelines established by San Diego County Emergency Medical Services (EMS) may apply for and receive designation as an Authorized Provider of Prehospital Continuing Education (CE).

Such authorization allows the Provider to offer continuing education opportunities for EMT-Basics (EMT-B), Paramedic and Mobile Intensive Care Nurses (MICNs) which are recognized for the purpose of EMT-B recertification, Paramedic relicensure and continuing accreditation, and for MICN re-authorization (in San Diego County), or re-establishing lapsed certification, authorization, or licensure.

A Provider must comply with all San Diego County policies, procedures and guidelines regarding continuing education, and must apply for and maintain status as an Authorized Provider with San Diego County Emergency Medical Services in order to provide approved CE credits.

The Provider must complete the authorization process prior to offering any course for CE credit. EMS requires at least 4 weeks to process an application for authorization as a CE Provider.

The application shall indicate for which level(s) of care the applicant is intending approval. These levels are: Basic Life Support (BLS, i.e. EMT-Bs), and/or Advanced Life Support (ALS, i.e. Paramedics and MICNs).

The fee to be authorized as a continuing education Provider is four hundred ($400.00) dollars per authorization period (4 years). San Diego County Base Hospitals are exempt from these fees. This fee includes authorization to provide approved CE credits to prehospital personnel ONLY within the level of the local EMS agency's approval. Providers may upgrade the level of approval from "BLS" to "ALS" upon satisfactory demonstration and documentation of resources required for ALS education. Provider authorization may be granted for a period not to exceed four (4) years.

After receipt of application and fees, and review of documentation and credentials, EMS will notify the applicant of its decision regarding the authorization or re-authorization of the applicant as an Authorized CE Provider, and the approval level. Once authorized, the Provider may offer an unlimited number of continuing education activities for CE credit during the authorization period within the approved level(s).

Provider authorization may be suspended or revoked at any time by EMS for failure of the Provider to adhere to the guidelines in this manual or the policies of the Division. Any decision of EMS regarding suspension or revocation of a Provider's authorization status is final. There will be no refund of fees in the event that a Provider is not authorized or re-authorized, or an authorization is revoked or suspended.

When two or more Providers co-sponsor a course, one Provider must be designated as the specific Provider responsible for compliance with all County requirements.

Each authorized Provider must immediately notify San Diego County EMS of:

1. Any change in name, address or telephone number of the authorized agency or Program Director
2. Any change in name of the person designated as Clinical Director, and
3. Any proposed change in the level of continuing education activities (BLS vs. ALS) provided.

Provider authorization is non-transferable.

COURSE CONTENT

The content of all approved continuing education activities for prehospital personnel must be:

1. relevant to the practice of prehospital care; and,
2. related to the scientific knowledge or technical skills required

- for prehospital; or be,
3. related to direct and/or indirect prehospital patient/client care.

Furthermore, each CE activity must remain relevant to the level(s) of the participant(s), that is, topics presented must specifically address the scope and practice of the CE participant(s) to whom CE credits are being awarded.

Learning experiences are expected to enhance the knowledge of, or reinforce basic training for, the EMT-B, Paramedic, or MICN at a level above that required for initial certification/ accreditation/ licensure/ authorization. Courses must be designed for individuals already familiar with the basic concepts of prehospital care; courses designed for "beginning" students (i.e. a basic EMT-B course) may not be approved for CE credit.

An Authorized Provider for CE credit may offer home study or individual study programs. Such courses must be approved by the Provider's Program Director, who is responsible to ensure that the objectives of the program have been met, that the number of hours awarded is consistent with the participant's effort, that course content is appropriate, that evaluations are completed by all participants receiving CE credit. EMS notes that the allowance of Home Study courses may provide a significant opportunity for abuse, and will scrutinize this policy regularly. An individual may not use the same home study course for CE credit more than once during a 2-year licensure/certification cycle.

Instructors/Course Preparation Time

Instructors or speakers may be awarded credit for the portions of the course that they attend or present, just as a student participant would. The instructor who desires such credit should sign in and out of the course, submit some sort of course evaluation, or otherwise verify that the course objectives were met for the instructor. Any limitations, such as the number of times an individual may use credit for a specific course for re-certification within a certification cycle, apply to instructors also.

Additionally, course preparation time for an instructor may be awarded CE credit at the discretion of the CE Provider, but this must be accomplished in the framework of a separate course. The instructor requesting prep time credit should have developed personal goals and objectives for the preparatory work, provided verification to the CE provider of the time actually spent in preparation for the course, provided some sort of evaluation to the CE provider as to the value of the prep work to the instructor.

ALS versus BLS

Providers must structure educational activities in accordance with the specific needs of the participants desiring credit. This includes providing challenging material in a framework where participants can explore issues for their own level. It is recognized that PARAMEDIC level education is inclusive of all EMT-B skills and procedures, however, the needs of BLS personnel may be specific to that level. If credit for a specific activity is awarded to EMT-B participants, the Providers of EMT-B CE must ensure that adequate attention is devoted to specific EMT-B issues. These activities must be provided in a setting and manner where an EMT-B can feel free to ask questions regarding BLS activities, review material that may seem "too basic" for ALS personnel, and is responsive to the needs of EMT-B providers.

Providers must specifically request and receive authorization from EMS to provide approved CE for each level of care (BLS and/or ALS), and must offer reduced CE credits at a course when some of the content is specifically outside the scope and practice of BLS care.

ACCEPTABLE COURSE CONTENT

These include but are not limited to:

1. Periodic training sessions or structured clinical experience in knowledge and skills (EMT-BASIC [B], PARAMEDIC [P], MICN [M]).

CE hours awarded for precepting cannot exceed 50% of the required hours for recertification.

INSTRUCTIONAL OBJECTIVES

Instructional objectives are to be developed for all CE activities, stated in behavioral terms. The objectives must denote measurable attributes observable in the student completing the program. The objectives explain to the student what proficiency the student should be able to demonstrate at the completion of the course / presentation. Objectives must be consistent with the scope and practice of those receiving CE credit.

The course content must be current and designed to include recent developments in the subject being taught.

DETERMINING THE HOURS OF CE CREDIT TO BE AWARDED

Providers determine the amount of CE credit to be awarded for the courses they offer. This determination will be made according to the following criteria:

4. Course participants who leave a course presentation early may receive partial credit for attending the course (minimum 1 hour), at the discretion of the Course Coordinator, based on the amount of time the participant was in attendance and the extent to which the participant has completed course objectives. (The individual MUST complete a course evaluation for the part of the activity the participant attended to receive any CE credit)
